ARTIST STATEMENT

Aqua Mutt and Dag Girl are my friends. Together, they usher an absurd journey of nothingness and confusion gently out of a closet – shining a window of light on a murky darkness.

Aqua Mutt is like a baffled citizen, trying to find a balance of understanding between differing interest groups whilst 'keeping its head above water'. Thoughts and visions swing from one deletion to the next. Aqua Mutt aspires to be culturally fluent in many different value systems, but is on shaky ground as is uncertain of whose voice is speaking when. Dag Girl is like a girl identity who just wants to be loved and accepted. She knows she doesn't really like herself, but in amongst her personal failings and obsessions, only manages to address specific short-term solutions. Although in a state of detached denial, she is needy of Aqua Mutt in this process, and in being so can inadvertently hinder all their attempts at progressive thinking.

Papier-mâché, primary colours and oddly molded forms call back the open possibilities of childhood. But this is not nostalgia. Would it help fix something 'wrong' if we could see things through the eyes of another, perhaps the eyes of a child - is to love and embrace everyone, including ourselves, really so impossible?

How do we wade through our personal fears, desires, ignorance, and wisdoms to positively contribute to a brave and intelligent self, a brave and intelligent Australia? Is individual disempowerment and apathy due to our own lack of faith that we can make a difference if we try hard enough. If we could, what difference would we choose to make?

1. Aqua Mutt Expanding

acrylic paint on papier-mâché with avian mesh
94h x 110l x 42w cm
2007

Mutt Chat

The big ships started it all - goin' round the world, carving up places, spreading the word, exciting new developments – pure progress and expansion. A good thing.

But it kinda meant carving up other people's places...and did all those people have to change? How could that have been good for them, this colonisation...?

Well. We all gotta learn, relearn, adapt, or drown – don't we?

2. Aqua Mutt in Moonee Ponds

acrylic paint on papier-mâché with avian mesh
67h x 80l x 47w cm
2007

Mutt Chat

Bombers are the go – you know – those guys in the same colours as the river rowers out there.

But my other mates just didn't get it - all they see is some kind of bizarre ritualistic fiesta; can't figure out what the black is all about – like they say isn't red and gold the lucky combo?

Well, I guess black is the new gold. Go the Bombers!

3. Aqua Mutt in Flood

acrylic paint on papier-mâché with avian mesh
72h x 86l x 42w cm
2007

Mutt Chat

When the waves came I saw the mosque topple over. Why the mosque?

But why the church?

Well...Both the mosque and the church, and all the fancy cars, houses, and little sheds were washed away too.

4. Aqua Mutt in Flower Garden

acrylic paint on papier-mâché with avian mesh
107h x 90l x 31w cm
2007

Mutt Chat

Flowers flowers oh such joy. Gladis are the best my possums, and don't you forget it.

But the lotus grows out of mud, and exits with enlightenment. What's so great about gladioli?

Well. Hey. Maybe they're already enlightened. Anyway, both come in pink – so how different can they really be?

5. Aqua Mutt Holding Water

acrylic paint on papier-mâché with avian mesh
88h x 95l x 43w cm
2007

Mutt Chat

Hey I went to this place where they serve you little cups of tea non-stop. I don't know what's in the tea but I was constipated for 2 weeks! Convenient...

But I'm happy to be drinking 8 glasses of water a day again, just like my GP recommended...now I'm having trouble holding my darned pee.

Well. Still. My system will be flushed out soon, and I'll be good as 18 again. Youth is everything.

6. Aqua Mutt in Dodgy Water

acrylic paint on papier-mâché with avian mesh, and fabric
49h x 45l x 47w cm
2007

Mutt Chat

I swam in the river all arvo. It was great.

But look at you – you’ve copped a bloody virus...and I dunno...I mean, hangin’ with those locals!

Well. Yeah. But these shakes are sure gettin’ me some divine insight. Transformation is nigh.

7. Aqua Mutt Exploding

acrylic paint on papier-mâché with avian mesh
71h x 54l x 42w cm
2007

Mutt Chat

Girt by sea we’re protected from all those unsavoury influences; those ‘neighbours’ up yonder. Gotta keep that navy and border control fully operational.

But if we hadn’t got here in time, we too would’ve been locked out what with our contagious stiff-leg disease and all.

Well, timing is all isn’t it.

8. Aqua Mutt in Soup

acrylic paint on papier-mâché with avian mesh
71h x 32l x 29w cm
2007

Mutt Chat

Those Vietnamese are so into their Phở soup. What a great tradition.

But hey what is this ‘roo doing bastardizing my sacred recipe?!

Well. One man’s corruption is another’s entrepreneurship. Get over it mate.

9. Aqua Mutt in Mythical Waters

acrylic paint on papier-mâché with avian mesh
91h x 74l x 29w cm
2007

Mutt Chat

I can’t believe some people still believe in mythical sea creatures – must make them fatalistic.

But fatalism ain’t all that bad – helps keep the poor poor.

Well. Yeah but most of us need to ascribe some form of meaning to our lives – don’t we?

10. Aqua Mutt on Oil Rig

acrylic paint on papier-mâché with avian mesh
94h x 81l x 44w cm
2007

Mutt Chat

Rigs mate – what a great invention. Have oil, get rich. It’s a simple formula and we all need it.

But I reckon they’re ugly, and what happens when not everyone can get at this oil thing? I guess the oil guys just get richer and richer, isn’t it?

Well. If its not oil making one group rich, it’d be something else making another group rich.

11. Aqua Mutt Posing

acrylic paint on papier-mâché with avian mesh
67h x 54l x 28w cm
2007

Mutt Chat

Bloody hot and humid as all hell. But everyone was wearing jeans and synthetics. I was the most practically dressed of all – trendy beach boardies and sunnies.

But I didn't feel quite right, stuck out like a sore thumb.

Well. I couldn't have blended in anyway; Like a white king in a sea of asians; I was a mongrel in a pack of purebreds.

12. Aqua Mutt in Asian Waters

acrylic paint on papier-mâché with avian mesh
67h x 65l x 34w cm
2007

Mutt Chat

Wow. Look at these cool Vietnamese and Japanese representations of water!

But aren't they just "Asian" mate. What's this Japanese this and Vietnamese that.

Well. Yeah. Like Australia is little London.

13. Aqua Mutt in Drought

acrylic paint on papier-mâché with avian mesh
74h x 56l x 33w cm
2007

Mutt Chat

The ground was parched and dry; there was only but a dead tree, the ghost of a small child; no living cows. It's been like that for decades...

But if their governments weren't so corrupt then it wouldn't be that way.

Well. There are no states, no nations, just one world, one us...isn't there?

14. Aqua Mutt Boozing

acrylic paint on papier-mâché with avian mesh
45h x 44l x 20w cm
2007

Mutt Chat

Geez that country! Alcohol was banned – I couldn't find a bloody pub anywhere...and someone said Aussies are hedonists!

But was good to be off of -ff -ff the fricken' wagon for once. Now I'm back in booze heaven.

Well. Hic. Hic. Gotta lubricate my sociability.

15. Aqua Mutt Surfing

acrylic paint on papier-mâché with avian mesh
71h x 58l x 30w cm
2007

Mutt Chat

Wow. Surfing is so popular now. It is huge in Japan, and here we got guys and girls, oldies, grommets, lidders, stand ups, and kooks alike – every man and his dog out there.

But it is way too crowded. Even on crap days

Well we've got a supply and demand issue. Try a theme park.

16. Aqua Mutt in Soap Bubbles

acrylic paint on papier-mâché with avian mesh

38_h x 47_l x 19_w cm

2007

Mutt Chat

I sure missed me long hot soapy showers.

But the older sailor said soap ain't good for you and pure ocean water is best. But maybe we just gotta fork out more for a better brand – especially those sensitive skin types.

Well anyway, the days of long hot showers are over - so I've heard.

17. Aqua Mutt Whaling

acrylic paint on papier-mâché with avian mesh

31_h x 26_l x 20_w cm

2007

Mutt Chat

Whaling! It used to be a fine heroic activity so the silver-haired lady told me.

But people are now worried about the whales, their survival, their feelings.

Well. But like how can we stop people from doing things we don't think they should do without hurting their feelings; their sense of survival.

18. Aqua Mutt with Sea Gypsies

acrylic paint on papier-mâché with avian mesh

29_h x 35_l x 18_w cm

2007

Mutt Chat

I traveled with sea gypsies. It was amazing. They are so knowledgeable about the ocean and the environment.

But I felt sad for them because their nomadic life prevented them from being heard, even when the tsunami directly affected their food supplies and resources.

Well. I'd rather be sea gypsy than a land-locked farmer in a drought.

19. Aqua Mutt Dammed

acrylic paint on papier-mâché with avian mesh

37_h x 32.5_l x 17_w cm

2007

Mutt Chat

Check out that dam! See what teamwork can do.

But the little animals got flooded out. And do you know what they actually paid the workers? Did you hear what the project managers got? The foreign investors?

Well. There will always be winners and losers.

20. Aqua Mutt in Illegal Waters

acrylic paint on papier-mâché with avian mesh

36_h x 31_l x 13.5_w cm

2007

Mutt Chat

There are these fishermen and they go far far out to sea to fish! But like sometimes they get in illegal waters...and end up getting their boats burnt. Bummer.

But I reckon they should get a real job and then they could just buy canned tuna. And if they worked really hard they could buy computers, cars, nice houses...

Well. But you try. You try buy a house in Sydney.

21. Aqua Mutt Swimming in Cyberspace

acrylic paint on papier-mâché with avian mesh
145h x 138l x 53w cm
2007

Mutt Chat

Google can get you incredible sea creature representations from different cultures, taken right out of their cultural contexts. It's amazing to see, and be inspired - how all these people had their own way of seeing, all equally beautiful!

But hey do you think 'ownership' is an issue?... and what about copyright - must be a nightmare!

Well. At least it creates new (copyright) jobs.
